A Change of Face

After a long, impatient wait for a brand new school, 750 Carroll Chargers set foot in a modern, spacious building with anticipation and excitement. The 1969-70 school year offered a "change of face" for the eager Chargers. After being tightly packed withing the walls of Huntertown, the expansive structure was a welcome relief.

With newer and larger facilities, many new fields opened up for the students to investigate. No longer were the handicaps of the old building endured. Instead of traveling miles for a home basketball game, the Carroll Chargers proudly invited other teams to compete in the new gymnasium. The large track and football area was a site of both victory and defeat for the boys as well as the girls.

Students as well as teachers found the well-equipped classrooms an asset to better learning. New library material aided students with a variety of research work.

Pleased with the "change of face", students swelled with pride when they said, "I go to Carroll High School!"

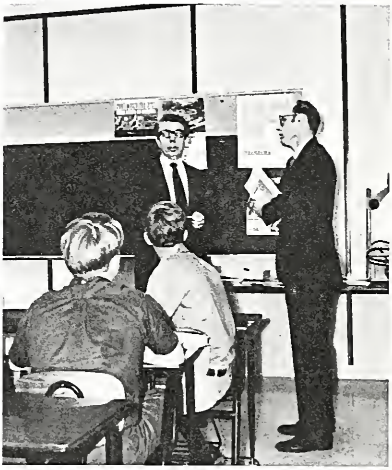
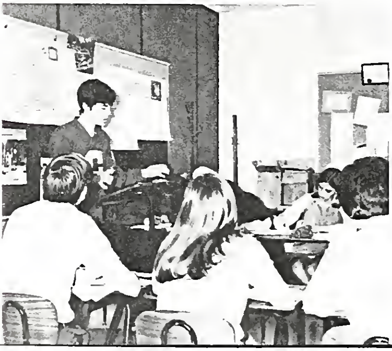
What was that remark, Ken?



O.K. Leonard you can take that seat near the back.



But I look at the matter from a different angle.

Development of Self Expression

The language department develops the ability to express one's inner throughts and ideas. English is a valuable tool for communication, writing and reading. It is the vehicle of communication in nearly all other courses.

This year with the acquisition of our new building we have been given a broader spectrum of courses to choose from. The three under classes are still educated in standard year-long courses, but the seniors have been offered many one semester classes. These include American Literature, Contemporary Literature, Drama, Grammar and Comp, and Speech. The change in the courses has made the teaching and learning of English much more enjoyable to everyone.

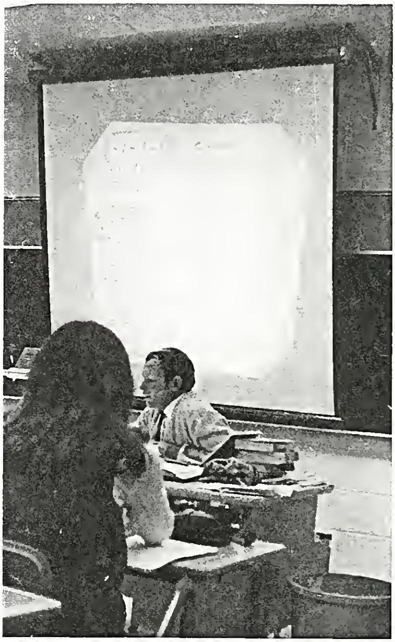
Mr. Merryman, this is the solution to the problem.



Mr. Beard often "inTrigs" his senior math students.

Mrs. Merryman! You mean you've actually got your geometry class studying?

Mysteries of Science Theories

Science and mathematics courses help to satisfy curious minds concerning the wonders and mysteries of the world today. They work in direct relationship with each other, enabling the student to think out problems on his own. The math classes include algebra I and II, plane and solid geometry, senior mathematics and trigonometry. Mathematics forms a firm foundation for numerous careers.

The science department includes general science, chemistry, biology, advanced biology, and physics. A new course, earth science, was added to the curriculum with the addition of a planetarium at Carroll. Science courses enable us to see and understand the natural beauty which surrounds us.

History, Economics, and Government

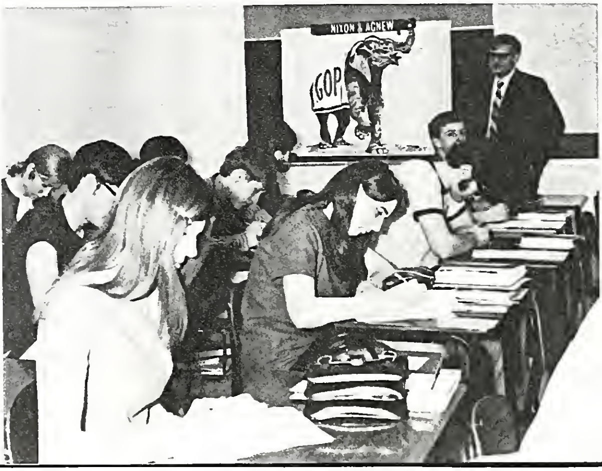
Or was that in 1943 Columbus sailed the ocean green?"

Mr. Eichenhour assisted Mr. McKinney with government and economics.



Prepare Our Future's Leaders

Carroll High School develops conscientious citizens through social studies.

Seniors study the legislation of the country through government. This year's classes studied federal and state constitutions, Congress and its duties, and other vital areas of state and federal government. Economics students became aware of the country's economic status. Planning family budgets, and buying and selling stocks were a few of the projects that these classes engaged themselves in.

Courses in U.S. History and World History are offered to the underclassmen. World History deals with the study of the nation from the ice age to present times. Juniors traced the progress of their American forefathers in U.S. History.

Social studies plays an important role in developing students' understanding of the world in which they live.

Exploratory Teachers Gain Useful Experience

The exploratory teaching classes offered a unique opportunity for seniors to find out from their own experience whether they would really want to "make it" in the teaching profession or not. Students were able to help in classrooms at Huntertown, The Children's Home, and at Carroll.

The cooperating faculty not only helped supply the ever-growing need for teachers with future prospects, but also got some free time on the side.

We hope that in the years to come, the program will be able to expand to possibly a full year and to other classes of interest.

of Career Opportunities

The vocational studies area gives students a chance to use creative talents and produce projects in the various phases of their interests.

Vocational classes are offered in Horticulture, Agricultural Mechanics, Power Mechanics, Woodshop, and Mechanical Drawing.

Horticulture classes study the growth and care of various plant life, landscaping, and conservation. One project that these classes worked on this year was their own greenhouse.

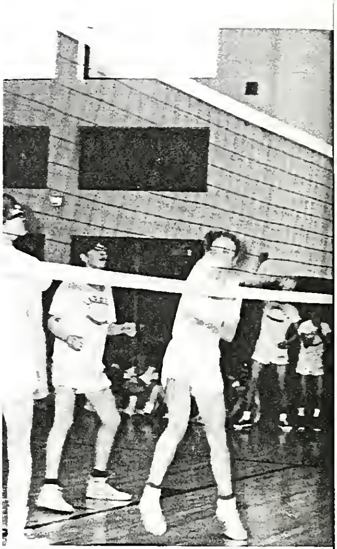
Ag Mechanics, and Power Mechanics classes give the boys a chance to work on various kinds of machinery and learn welding skills.

Mechanical drawing classes give the students a few basic fundamentals in the area of architectural and mechanical design. One of their projects was building model homes.

Graduates of these classes find themselves well prepared for many technical and mechanical occupations.

Anything boys can do, girls can do better. Well, almost!

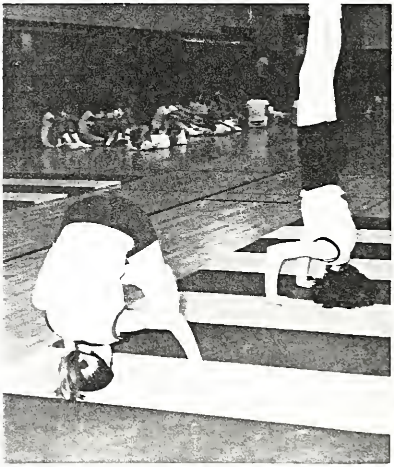
The newly acquired trampoline provided many hours of fun and learning.



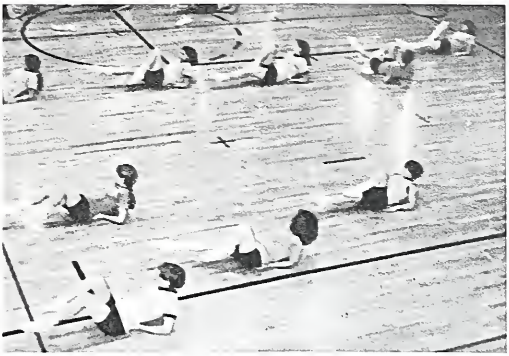
Doug Kincaid leaps high into the air during a fun-filled volleyball game.

Physical Education Develops Coordination

Rope climbing was a new skill for students to develop.



The headstand requires balance and muscular coordination.



Daily exercise is an essential part of a physical education program.

& Muscular Precision

Determination on building coordination as well as sportsmanship was one of the goals of the physical education classes at Carroll High School.

New equipment introduced gymnastics to the physical education program this year. Equipment such as parallel bars, still rings, peg boards, and a trampoline were added to the athletic department.

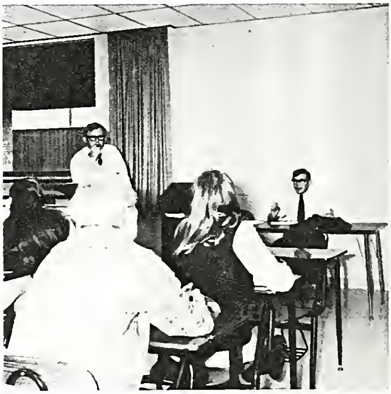
The new gymnasium provided ample space for the various phys. ed. activities, giving more students a chance to participate in class. During the winter months, students engaged in such sports as volleyball, basketball, and gymnastics. Warmer weather gave students a chance to get out into the fresh outdoors in such sports as softball, soccer, baseball, track, and golf.

The newly acquired cage ball provided many hours of entertainment. But do you think those boys will ever make it go through the basketball net?!!

Student Teachers Changed the Daily Routine

These four men fulfilled their student teaching obligations at Carroll. Mr. Fuller chose social studies and taught World History under the supervision of Mr. Stahly. Mr. Eichenhour assisted Mr. McKinney and Mr. Holderman with Government and Economics. Mr. Switzer chose the English department for his observation, and helped Mr. Bauserman with many cooperative suggestions. The science department also had an assistant, Mr. Kline, who very bravely led the chemistry classes through many experiments.

Miss Emme assisted in the math department.



Our camera caught Mr. Fuller in action.

Framework for Future Chargers

Understanding and improvement of student-faculty relations, school codes and policies, and the student body itself is the purpose and goal of our Student Council at Carroll.

This year the council was faced with the task of laying down the framework for our new school. They adopted a new constitution, instituted a new homeroom program, revised the dress code, helped set up convocations, donated money to various organizations, declared dress-up days and citizenship award recipients, held dances, and met with the school board concerning problems and presenting solutions; all of which took a great deal of time and effort.

This was a year of great anticipation for all and at times contained disappointment for many. The council tried extremely hard to fulfill its duty as voice of the students. Sometimes they failed, but we feel they have set a standard which all future classes at Carroll will do well to strive to attain.

The overwhelming spirit of the Chargers finally paid off! Don Webb, Presidnet of Student Council, and Joe Neuhouser, Vice-Presidnet, on behalf of the student body received the WOWO spirit cannon from Jim Brady. The cannon was used at the Churubusco football game, where the Chargers were victorious 34-0. The cannon blast roused the Charger spirit to even greater heights.

The Spanish Club is a new addition to the extracurricular activities this year. Its purpose is to further develop one's understanding of Spanish cultures and the language itself.

Of the many activities the Spanish Club held this year, the most spectacular was the Christmas Bazaar in the Commons. Spanish articles and trinkets were on sale, and of course, no bazaar would be complete without something to eat, so the club made and sold tacos. These were a real "hot" item, and sold faster than they could be made!

The club was a big success with a large enrollment, and next year's sponsors and officers hope that it will be even better.

The 1969-70 "Pacesetters" of Carroll High School are Juniors and Seniors in membership. The underclassmen drill team are called the "Cavaliers". In many of their performances, the girls were accompanied by the Senior band and the talented Carroll twirlers.

The fancy-foot-stepping marchers were not seen as often as would have been liked due to the limited availability of facilities. However, the Pacesetters had a good year.

The up-and-coming drill team of 1970-71 will open their season with a routine at Carroll's Homecoming for the first time in its two year history. From then on they will march for the football games as well as basketball, hopefully.

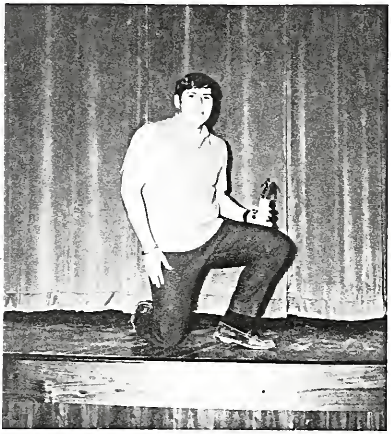
Probably one of the few places a student may study in peace and quiet is the library. This is made possible through the combined efforts of Mrs. Whetsel, a graduate of Ball State University, and Mrs. Biggs, a graduate of Arcola High School.

Among the many duties of the librarians and assistants are checking and replacing all library materials, maintaining the "golden silence" and enforcing the library rules.

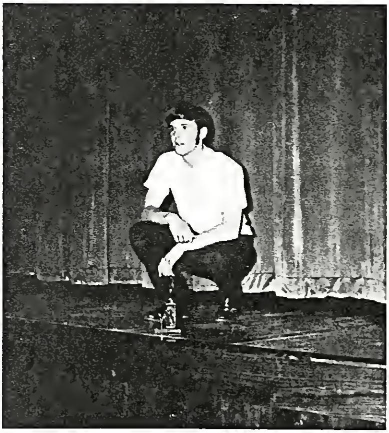
Students who use the library readily appreciate the helpful service and the fine job that Mrs. Whetsel and Mrs. Biggs and their staff of assistants have done this year.

A CHANGE OF FACE IN SPORTS

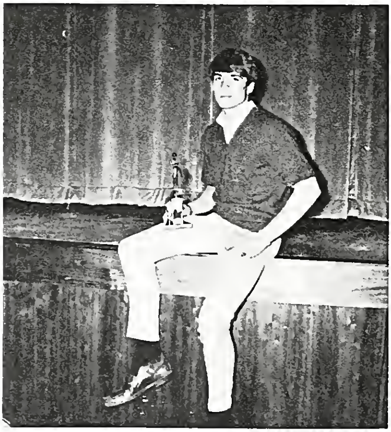
Carroll Had Four on the All Conference Team



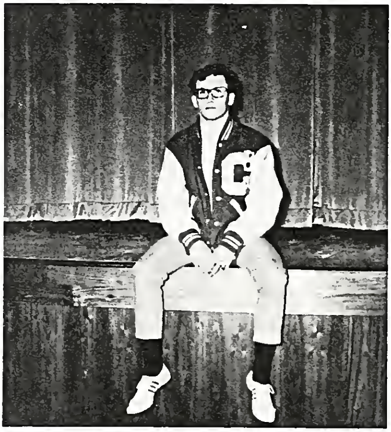
Kerry Ambrose was voted on the All Conference Team by the coaches. He received this honor for his football ability. Kerry is an All Star Football Player.



Tom Fabian was voted on the All Conference Team and was also an All Star Football Player. Tom had the most touchdowns, 10, for a single season.



Jim Kruse was also voted on the All Conference Team by the coaches. Jim was a member of the All Star Basketball Team.



Hank Parton became a member of the All Conference Team by placing third in the Conference Cross Country Meet. Hank broke a record at Shoaff Park with a time of 10:21.

Freshman Teams' Motto is "We Try Harder"

Due to the number of boys that tried out, Carroll High School had two freshman basketball teams this year. Team A finished the season off with a record of 5 — 10 and Team B with 3 — 0. The highlight of the year, according to Coach Beven Etzler, was a victory over the undefeated Woodlan Warrior team.

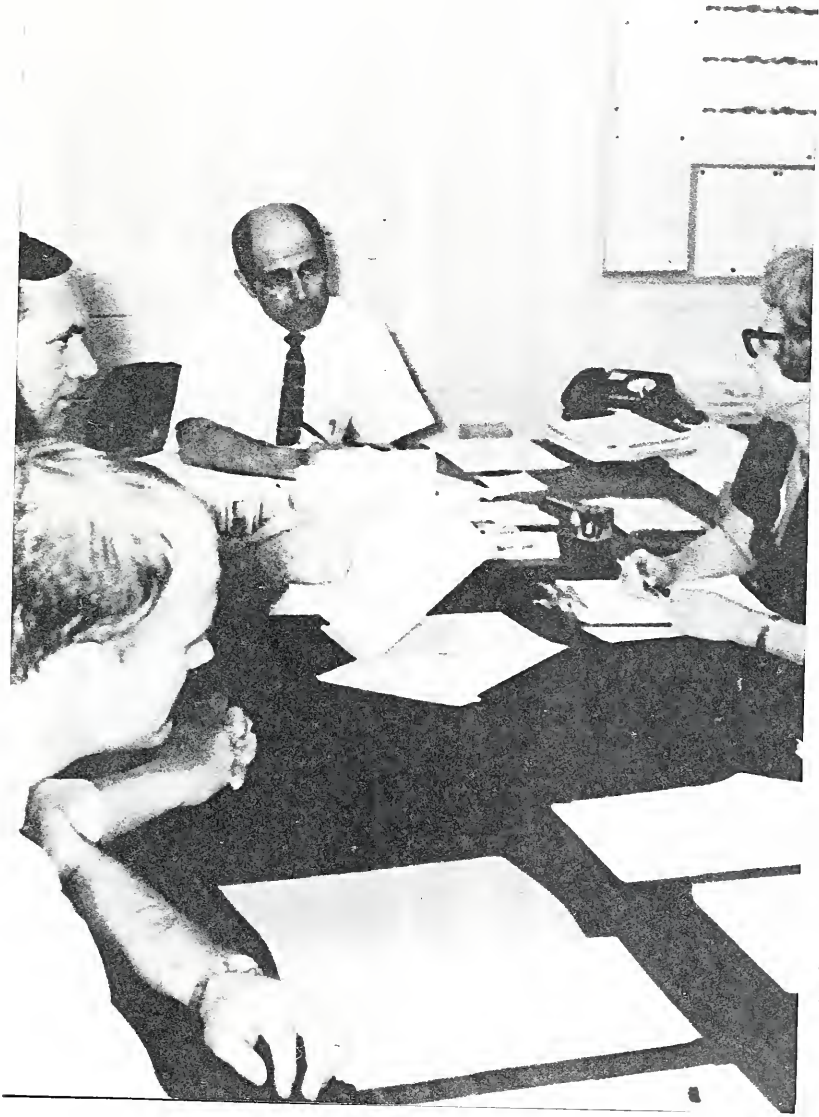
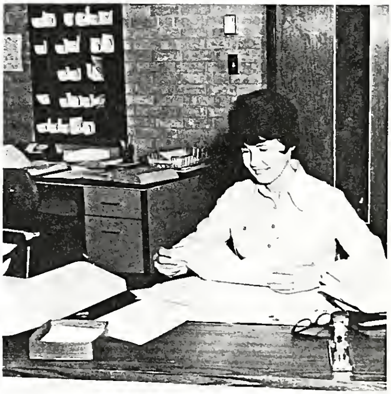
A CHANGE OF FACE IN FACULTY & ADMINISTRATION



Principal Andes, Assistant Gorsuch & Office Smoothly

A principal's job goes further than just his desk. It is very seldom that Mr. Andes is found as such.

Mrs. Herdman's duties are much in the line of a secretary and receptionist.



Bookkeeping is Mrs. Houser's specialty in the office.

Staff Work Hard to Operate Carroll

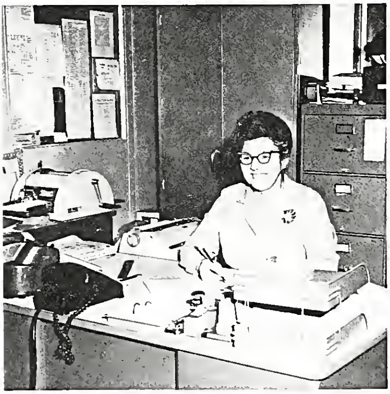
Among the vice-principal's numerous duties, the most glamorous is making announcements.

The regular study hall teacher, Mrs. Messmann, also handles books and book rentals.

School teamwork is not only needed in sports, but in the work of the administration's.

Guidance Counselors and School Officials

Our guidance counselors, Mrs. Etzler, Mr. Gerard, and Mr. Johnston, offered advice for our many problems.



Mrs. Rinehold, Secretary-Treasurer of Northwest Allen County Schools, keeps records and accounts in order.

Mrs. Ellen McBride is Secretary to Mr. Mantock and Mr. Mallers.

Provide the Driving Force Behind Education

Mr. Mantock is Superintendent of our school corporation. Many important decisions rest on his shoulders.

Mr. Mallers, Assistant Superintendent, aids Mr. Mantock in various matters pertaining to our school.

Cooks & Bus Drivers Are Essential Each Day

What would all of us do without the aid of the many dedicated bus drivers and our cafeterian personnel? These dedicated people spend many hours at their job. The bus drivers must get up bright and early to begin their long routes so you may arrive at school on time. Likewise, cafeterian personnel must get an early start perparing a balanced meal for a troup 750 strong. Without them our day would be a total loss.

The hard snows during the winter months kept everybody busy with the shovels and snow plows. Eldon spent many hours keeping our drives and sidewalks clean.

May 27, 1970 marked a tremendous milestone in the educational plans of Dan Rexroth. A diving accident during the summer of '67 ended Dan's conventional schooling, but didn't dampen his desire for a high school diploma.

During his lengthy stay in the hospital, his education was continued with bedside teaching, and after his dismissal from the hospital, he continued his studies at home.

On graduation evening, a standing ovation from his classmates indicated the admiration of fellow classmates for Dan's 68—70 endeavors. Graduation from Carroll is only one milestone for Dan — the next one is to become an accountant.

Year 'Round Recreation

Right at Your Doorstep

In Wonderful

Pine Valley

Imagine living in a community where there is constant activity. . . all year 'round. In the summer. . . golf, swimming and tennis. In the winter. . . ice skating and sledding. Dining and dancing at the congenial country club every month of the year. No wonder more and more families are moving to Pine Valley. . . where there is always excitement when you want it. . . and the peace and contentment of your own home when you need it.

Scenic, wooded and golf course homesites in all price ranges. Homes from $28,000.
